Returned PW Says N. Korea Is No More

By LEROY HANSEN

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — A returning war prisoner said today the Chinese Communists have replaced the Russians as the masters of North Korea.

"There is no more North Korea," Cpl. Lester E. Williams, 26, Kemah, Tex., said. "The Chinese run everything."

Williams returned to freedom today with 74 other U. S. captives of the Communists bringing the number of Americans freed in 13-day-old "Operation Big Switch" to 180.

"The Texans' statement tended to confirm reports that Red China's Dictator Mao Tse-tung has succeeded in winning the puppet North Korean regime away from Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, whom he never has praised publicly as the successor to the late Josef Stalin.

According to Williams' information, the Chinese "volunteers" apparently claimed North Korea as reward for their intervention in the Korean war.

"On the trains it is the Chinese who do everything," Williams said. "They regard the North Koreans as dirt, and the North Koreans have to take it. The Chinese watch everything, and tell the North Koreans what to do."

The Communists released 450 prisoners Tuesday, the most in one day since "Big Switch" started. They promised to return even more, 456, Wednesday.

Since storms off the coast of South Korea had forced the United Nations to return to Kojedo with boatloads of prisoners, the Allies will release only 600 captives Wednesday and none Thursday. The U. N. will resume its repatriation of 2,400 prisoners daily on Friday.

Strikes in France Defy Work Order

By EDWARD M. KORRY

PARIS (UP) — Nearly 2,000,000 French workers defied a "back to work" ultimatum today and the government, fearing nationwide strikes, paratroops, infantry and anti-air police in the Paris area.

Premier Joseph Laniel demanded in a surprise national broadcast last night that the strikers who have crippled communications, utilities, mines and factor elsal over the country for 17 days return to work today.

He implied a threat to use force, and hinted he would jail strike leaders and workers who failed to heed official requisitions to go back to their jobs.

But the workers stayed out, and the government feared that if it resorted to force, the Communists would call a general nationwide strike and send members of unions they control into the streets of Paris and other big cities for riots.

Garbage piled up in the streets. Train service from Paris was but a fraction of normal. Telephone and telegraph service was maintained only for essential messages. Paris subway service was 50 per cent of normal. Bus service was crippled.

Benton Mother Happy Son Is Freed

BENTON — Mrs. Sybil Harris of Benton said "a big stone was rolled away from my heart" last night when she was told her son was one of 75 prisoners released yesterday by Chinese Communists.

She said her son, Cpl. Arthur T. Harris, enlisted in the Army on his 16th birthday. His underage status remained undiscovered.

Just before he was to be released from the Army in August, 1950, she said he was sent to Korea. He was captured in January, 1951.

The last letters she received from him were dated May, 1953. "I was listening to the radio," said Mrs. Harris, "hoping to get the good news when the telephone rang."

Her husband, W. H. Harris, was working a night shift at the Reynolds Metals Co. mine at Bauxite when the news came.

The concert this evening featuring the 30-voice Chapel Choir of the First Baptist Church introduces this musical investigation to our city. The public is cordially invited to hear this program under the direction of S. A. Whitlow, pastor and Earl Bailey, Music director. A preview performance of tonight's program was presented to members of the local Kiwanis Club during their noon luncheon today.

U. S. Worker Won't Talk, Is Suspended

By WILLIAM M. BATES

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Government Printing Office employee was suspended today within an hour after he refused to tell Senate investigators whether he is a Communist, has stolen secret government documents or has engaged in espionage.

The employee, Edward M. Rothschild, 42-year-old bookbinder, refused on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer questions by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's permanent investigating subcommittee.

"Your refusal is telling the world that you have been stealing secrets, that you are a member of the party and that you have engaged in espionage," McCarthy told Rothschild.

Less than an hour later, deputy Public Printer Philip L. Cole suspended Rothschild from his job without pay pending the outcome of "congressional action" in the "Continued on Page Two

Time, Date of Telephone Strike Set

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Federal labor conciliators entered contract negotiations between 53,000 CIO employees and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today even as a union spokesman said the date for a strike had been set.

Frank P. Longmire, vice president of District 6 of the Communications Workers of America, refused to comment on a report Aug. 20 had been set for a strike but he did say:

"The time and date has been set."

The strike threat grew after a company spokesman said negotiations had "reached sort of a stalemate" and federal conciliators had been invited to sit in on negotiations today.

The conciliators held separate preliminary conferences with the two parties yesterday.

The company's wage offer ranged from $1 to $2.50 a week per employee. Union officials said the offer was "an average of 3 1/2 cents an hour" and was an "insult."

Negotiations began June 3. The negotiating committee has been authorized by union members to call a strike when and if it deems one necessary.

Commissioner Defends Right of Way Plan

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — State Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said today's highway commission's policy on rights-of-way actually is saving money for counties where roads are being built.

Eldridge made the statement in reply to criticism from county judges who have opposed the commission policy of giving priority to roads where rights-of-way are furnished free to the state by the counties.

The judges have argued that the policy requires them to spend county funds to remove obstacles and structures along the proposed roadways.

Eldridge used proposed improvement of Highway 143 in Polk county as an example. He pointed out that under previous policy, the state would have paid half the cost incurred in obtaining and clearing the right-of-way, and the county would have paid the other half. This would have amounted to $31,500 each for the state and county.

Under the new commission policy, however, the right-of-way has been donated by the property owners and the clearing costs will amount to $75,000.

"This means the county has been saved a total of $28,500," Eldridge said. He added that some confusion exists over a 1953 law which provides for a division of state and county responsibility in paying right-of-way costs. One section of the law says the state will pay 100 per cent of the costs on primary roads and 50 per cent on secondary roads. But another section states that no part of the law shall supersede a 1947 act which provides that the county can be called upon to furnish all of the rights-of-way.

Mossadegh Rounds Up Opposition

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's triumphant government continued a round-up today of suspects in Sunday's attempted coup.

From a bill behind the Taj Mahal, Shah's appointment as premier, Maj. Gen. Fazlollah Zahedi, defiantly called on Army officers to lay down their lives for the monarchy. His declaration was handed newsmen in Tehran by a courier.

Unofficial reports said police and pro-Mossadegh troops had arrested 30 alleged ringleaders of the palace attempt to oust the aged Premier. Foreign Minister Hussein Fatemi admitted 14 were Army leaders.

Mossadegh's government appeared firmly in power after the abortive coup launched after Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi signed a decree to reorganize the Premier.

Soviet Plan Calls for Nations Not in Korea Fighting

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) It was proposed today that the Korean peace conference commission be made up of nations which had no part in actual fighting.

The Soviet resolution called for inclusion of the following countries:

The United States, Britain, France, Russia, Communist China, India, Poland, Sweden, Burma, North Korea and South Korea.

The Soviet move came as the General Assembly's 40-nation Political Committee rejected a Russian demand that Red China and North Korea be invited to take part in the current U. N. Korean debate.

Russia's effort to turn the Korean parley into a sort of round-table affair contrasted sharply with the United States demand that the talks be restricted to representatives of the "two sides" who fought in Korea.

The committee plunged head-on into the general debate after turning down the demand for inviting Red China and North Korea here.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. insisted that the peace conference must be limited to the countries who took part, with the possible exception of Russia. He said he had no objection to Russia's participation of the North Koreans and Chinese Reds want it.

Britain and France both advocated a broader representation than that sought by the United States.

British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd said Britain "does not wish to perpetuate this concept of two sides, to have the peace conference as a kind of political Panmunjom."

He specifically urged the inclusion of India.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States prepared to lead off the U. N. Korean debate today with a strong plea to bar so-called neutral countries — India, particularly — from the forthcoming Korean "political" conference.

Russia, however, was reported ready to blump for a widely backed plan to include some countries who sent no troops to the conflict. Some diplomats felt the U. N. Assembly majority might agree with the Russians.

The Soviets and India both have been proposed for membership in the conference, their sponsors contending the parley should be a roundtable affair rather than a two-sided negotiation. If the U. S.-opposed view is adopted, still other noncombatants might be invited.

The reported Soviet move was seen as an attempt to capitalize on the differences between the United States and Britain over India, and at the same time a try for U. N. defeat to the United States.

Big 3 Agrees to Work on Austria Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three Western Powers have agreed to Russia's demand that work be resumed on a comprehensive peace treaty with Austria. The three powers are willing to do this, but only if the Russians are willing to do the same.

The United States, in a note to the Soviet Union, said it is willing to resume the abbreviated treaty which the Western nations have been pressing on this understanding.

"That there will be no extension of the time limit and that the Soviet government is prepared to conclude a treaty for Austria which will insure Austria's political and economic independence."

After more than 200 versions to discuss the details of the four-nation treaty with no success, the United States, Britain and France proposed an abbreviated version.

The main point of difference between the two drafts is that the Soviet draft omits a clause calling for the return of industries which the Soviets are holding on the ground that they belonged to the German Nazi regime of Adolf Hitler.

The notes delivered to the Foreign Office in Moscow yesterday and made public last night suggested that diplomats appointed by the Western Powers and Russia meet in London to resume talks on the long treaty.

They were in reply to a Russian note of July 30 holding that the Western nations drop the subject of the treaty which Russia has concluded to be a violation of the Potsdam agreement made at Potsdam in 1945.

In another note on Aug. 4, the Soviets had said that "it goes without saying that a possible successful solution of the German problem could also help a solution of the Austrian question."

In reply, yesterday's U. S. note said it was assumed this did not mean that hope for an Austrian treaty would be deferred "until other unrelated conditions are met."

From Democratic committee. It was this job, as a borough "boss" that was the cause of his career as a political figure in the state and the nation.

Flynn's political star reached its zenith in 1940 when he assumed the chairmanship of the Democratic National committee. Three years later he was forced into virtual retirement when a scandal over paying bribes caused him to withdraw from an appointment by Roosevelt as minister to Australia.

Republicans in the Senate Foreign Relations committee charged that Flynn was unfit for confirmation to the Australian post because the European-style courtesy at his Lake Mahopac, N. Y., estate was paved at the expense of New York City. The 8,000 bricks in the pavement were sold to Flynn for only $88, the evaluation of an overzealous party worker, the Republicans charge.

Flynn asked the President to withdraw the nomination rather than raise a partisan fight in wartime. He resigned his three party positions, but soon afterwards remained leadership of the Bronx county organization and his national committeeman's post.

Benton Jail Escapees Recaptured

BENTON (AP) — Two prisoners who escaped from one of the Benton County Jail here last week, returned here today following a 12-hour manhunt.

Shelby County Sheriff Deputy Sheriff Sam H. Hays and Deputy Sheriff Marshall Hays captured the last of the two, 21-year-old Robert James of Benton, Mich. In a railroad box car near Mableton about 9:30 p.m. last night.

Earlier in the day, two other escapees were captured near Mableton. They were Robert W. Hays, 24, a Michigan paroled convict, and Albert W. McCollins, 30, a Jasper, Ark., inmate, both of whom were held on charges of armed robbery.

Jessie held in connection with a Missouri robbery and Dean, a backstabber, to cut through a steel mesh covering a skylight yesterday morning. Then they got away from the jail's office to escape, McCollins' cell.

Hungarians Free British Businessman

By DANIEL F. GILMORE

VIENNA, Aug. 18 (AP) — British businessman Robert A. Vogler, who had been held in Hungary for three years, was freed today by the Red Hungarian government.

Vogler was freed suddenly yesterday by the Red Hungarian government. He had been held in Hungary for three years.

Vogler, who was held with American businessman Robert A. Vogler, crossed the Hungarian border this morning and was met by British embassy officials. Vogler was released in May, 1951.

The silver-haired Sanders, looking contented and fit, was driven to the British-occupied Park hotel at the British sector of this four-power controlled city.

Sanders walked slowly but firmly up the stone stairs of the hotel, where he was to lunch privately with Andrew Stack, British press attaché and other British officials. Stack promised a press conference "later in the day" if clearance for it was received from London.

The dramatic release at the Hungarian frontier was made quickly and with a minimum of ceremony. The British businessman walked away.

Road Worker Hunt in 90 MPH Chase

PARAGOULD (AP) — A county road worker was rounded in a 90-mile-an-hour highway chase here yesterday after an argument over his former wife.

Sheriff Chester Shirley said he had arrested Chris Ayers, 35, of Paragould, in connection with the shooting of John L. Smith, 45, also of Paragould. No charges have been filed.

Smith was released from a Paragould hospital after being treated for bullet wounds in the shoulder and left side.

Shirley said Ayers came to the courthouse to surrender himself and his son, Jimmy, 19, who took part in the chase.

The argument began, Shirley said, when Ayers, who is married, said to Smith's former wife, berated Smith for his attentions to Mrs. Smith.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set. Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

The government reluctantly called a meeting of the national assembly's guiding bureau for Friday to decide whether to recall vacationing deputies for a legislative showdown on Laniel's policies.

Communist leaders were pleased at the prospect of a national assembly meeting. Their newspaper Humanite recalled how in the days of the "popular front" workers won the 40-hour week, paid vacations and other gains in the 1936 general strike during a parliamentary session.

Alabama Oil Test Promising

HODGES, Ala. (AP) — A promising show of oil was reported today in a wildcat test in this northwest Alabama area.

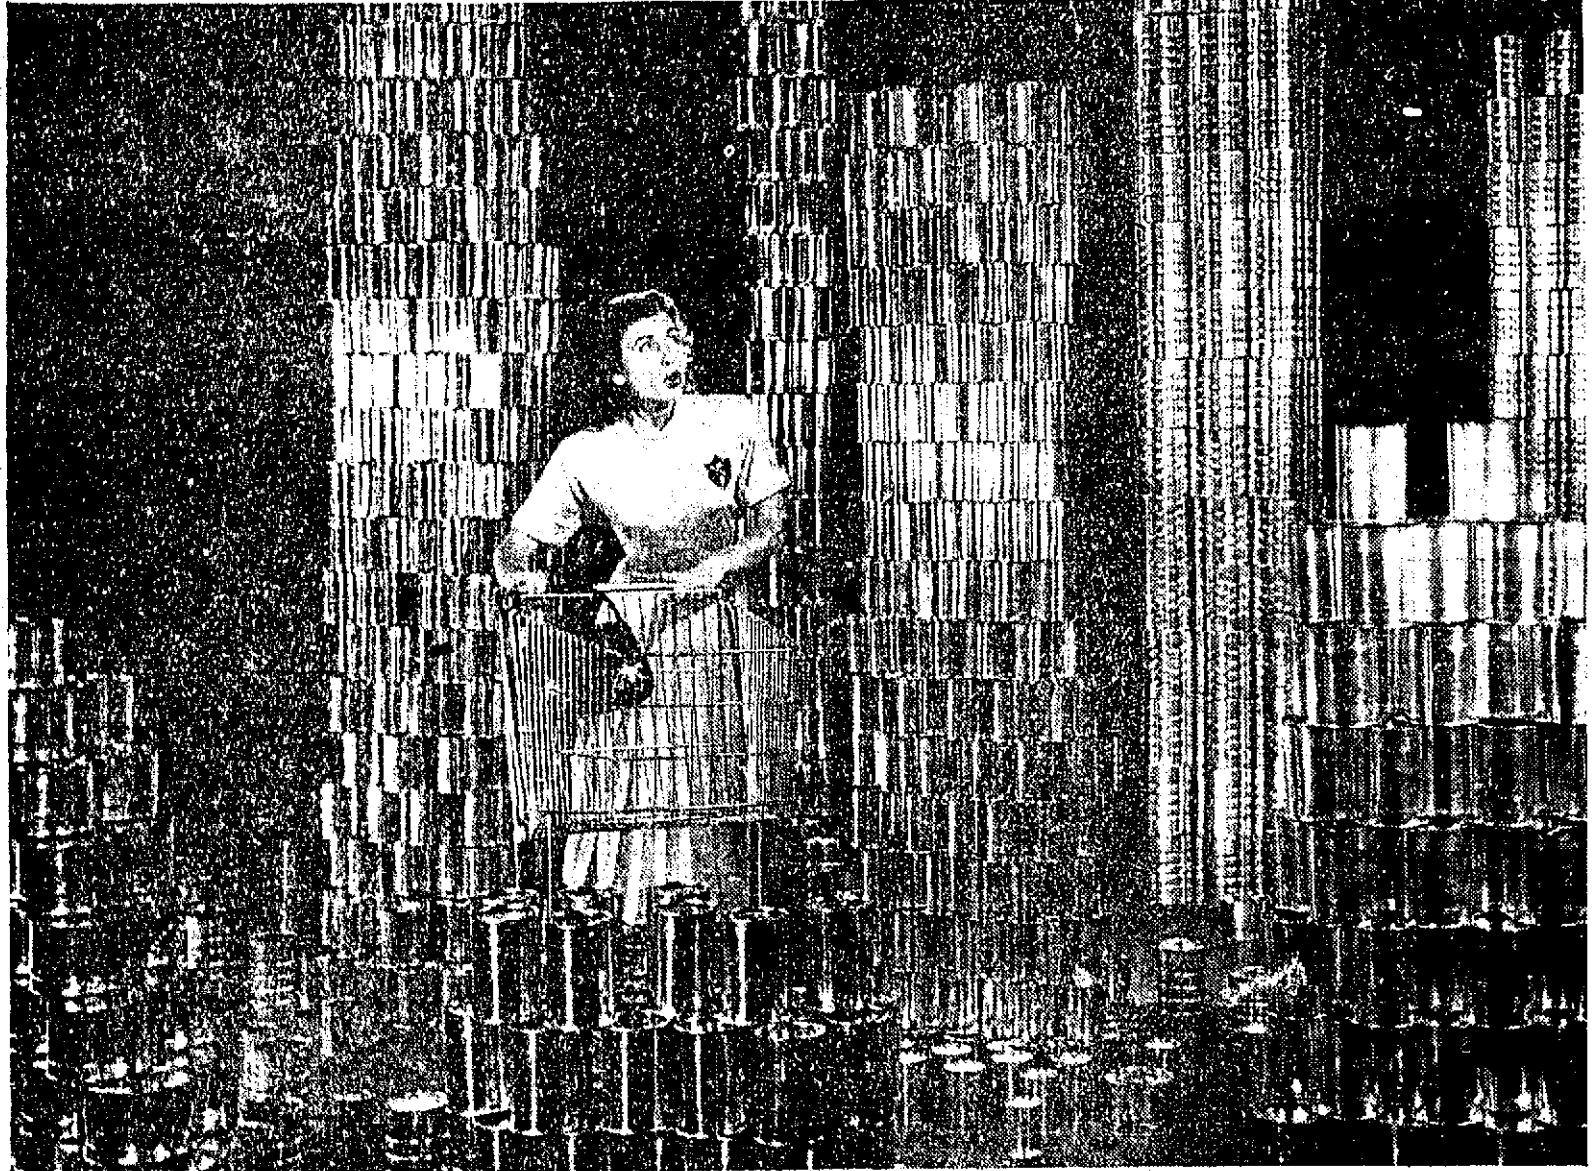

James L. Duffey of Birmingham said the show was reported between 900 and 1,000 feet in the Hartwell sands in the W. W. Bedford well being drilled three miles west of Hodges.

Duffey said oil was spotted shortly after drillers topped the Hartwell formation. More oil was brought up when the well was bailed today.

Although shows of oil have been found in previous wildcat tests in this area, no commercial producers have been brought in.

HOT IN TOKYO

TOKYO (AP) — It was 93 in Tokyo today, the hottest day since the end of World War II.

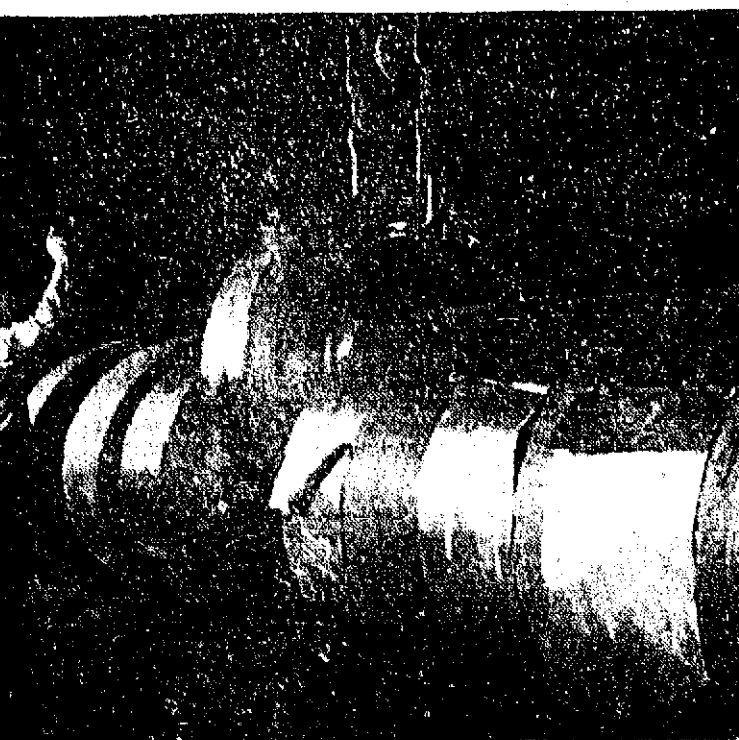

This year people like you will use 30 BILLION tin cans!

Every day 80 million tin cans are opened by people in the United States. This year the canning industry will use 3 1/2 million tons of tinplate and will fill a total of 30 billion cans with everything from "soup to nuts."

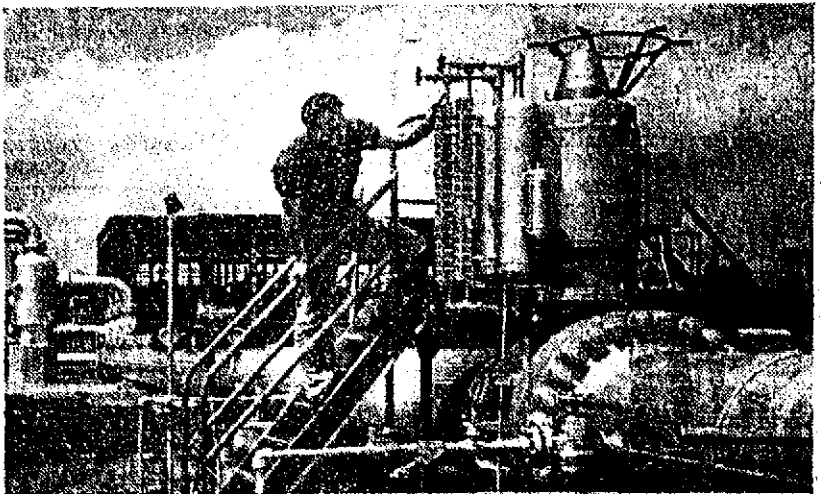

Tinplate is really steel that has been coated with tin. To do the job economically, steel, rolled in continuous strips at a mile-a-minute clip, is first annealed by intense and closely controlled heat. Gas-fired furnaces are used in this process because they do the job faster, better and cheaper than former methods. Gas is one big reason why tin is so cheaply and abundantly produced. Gas heat is used by many food canners, too, for processing foods you buy from your grocer's shelves.

COMPANIES SERVED BY TEXAS EASTERN SERVE YOU

Every seven minutes, seven miles of steel strip comes from Weirton's No. 6 Cold Reducing Tandem Mill. Enough steel is produced in eight hours to make more than five million of the familiar No. 2 cans. The Weirton Steel Company, Weirton, West Virginia, is a customer of Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., which is supplied gas by Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

Approximately 1.2 billion cubic feet of natural gas per day is moved through Texas Eastern's 4200-mile pipeline system. Thirty-six compressor stations, like the one at Gladeville, Tenn., speed gas to the Midwest and Atlantic Seaboard.

State Sued for Freeing Roker

LITTLE ROCK — The state of Arkansas is being sued for $10,000 for granting a Christmas furlough to convicted murderer Tuck Bishop.

The attorney general's office here said yesterday Mrs. Ada Dougherty of Elgin, Ill., filed suit charging that the state was negligent in granting the December, 1951, furlough to Bishop.

Bishop never returned to prison and escaped to Utah where he was convicted of slaying Mrs. Dougherty's son, James T. Dougherty, and another miner.

Bishop was serving a life sentence in Arkansas for the fatal shooting of four persons in Springfield. He now is serving a life term in Utah in the miners' deaths.

This convalescent girl keeps mirrored train case beside her bed. This keeps her beauty essentials always at hand and well organized for her needs. A nurse has little time to give wet shampoo, so young lady keeps dry shampoo among her aids. She brushes it through her hair (center) with little brush that she dips in the powder in the saucer. She has golden opportunity to rid herself completely of corns and callouses and she gives herself luxurious pedicures (left). A short hair cut keeps her hair neat and comfortable. She avoids creams on her face except on driest spots since she can't give herself a thorough soap-and-water wash following them. For this reason, she wears almost no make-up. Lipstick and a light dusting of powder suffice. Skin fresheners help keep her skin cleansed, refreshed and stimulated. She prepares to receive guest, looking very pretty (right).

Dear Miss Dix: I have known a man for five years and have been going steady with him for two. When we first dated, he took me to fine dinners and a show occasionally. Later, however, he expects me to pay my own way when we go out — and often his, too.

I know he can well afford treating me, but it's hard for me to pay all the time since my salary barely covers my living expenses. We're not kids, either; I'm 35 and he's 42. At times he'll borrow a dollar or two from me, then, when we go out, he'll pay it by deducting it from my share of the meal. Please hit hard at a piker of his type.

Tell Miser Off

Answer: In the time you've known this man, you've changed from what was probably a fairly sufficient woman, of 30, into a doormat of 35. However, while his niggardliness is contemptible, you actually encourage your friends' stinginess, since you obviously give into him at every turn. His nature being what it is, he can't resist taking advantage of you.

This is a free country, you know, and no one can force you to take a man out to dinner if you don't want to. You may be assured that he has absolutely no respect for you, has no intention of letting the friendship go beyond the free-meal state, will continue borrowing money and considers you nothing more than a very compliant date who won't say "no" to anything he wants.

Do yourself a favor and save your money against the rainy day that is surely in store for one as unprepared as you. Also, inject a little starch into your backbone, and tell the miser off. Let him know that if you must pay for your own dinners, you'd prefer more amiable company, and that his sponging days are over.

Don't expect anything I write

Union Denies Threat Successful

LITTLE ROCK — U. S. Timm Corp. said 225 workers returned to their jobs here yesterday after the company had warned 1,100 striking AFL workers they'd be replaced if they didn't show up for work.

However, D. C. Brown of the striking International Association of Machinists, said there were fewer workers on the job yesterday than a week ago.

Plant Manager Stanley C. Amren predicted that returnees would be more numerous today.

Amren had said that union wage hike demands "were impossible to meet" and told strikers they'd be replaced if they don't return to their jobs by today.

Brown said Amren's statement, issued in newspaper advertisement and letters, had produced a new "solidarity" among union members.

The strike began July 31 when wage negotiations bogged down.

Truce, Future Subjects of UN Meeting

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly meets in special session in New York today to take the second of three steps which could lead to peace but may end in frustration, in Asia and elsewhere.

First step: the Korean truce. Second step: to decide who will take part in the peace conference. Third step: the peace conference itself, opening perhaps in mid-October.

This is the background of the meeting of the General Assembly's 60 members.

In reaching the armistice the two truce terms in Korea—U. N. command and the Communists—agreed the diplomat of "both sides" should take over once the fighting stopped. What should the diplomats discuss?

Should they talk just about Korea? Or should they go further afield and consider Asian problems in general? The agreement said among other things: "...the peaceful settlement of Korea, etc."

That of course may turn out to be one of the most important—and most disastrous—for any hope of peace coming out of the conference words ever written.

The United States wants the peace conference to stick to Korean problems, leaving wider questions to be discussed elsewhere and at another time.

The Communists could make hash of this desire, and of the conference itself, by dragging through the door left open by "et cetera" a host of questions not directly related to Korea. For example:

Communist China's seating in the U. N., and turning Formosa over to Red China, which would mean asking the United States to kick off that island's Chinese ally Chiang Kai-shek.

The U. N. Assembly could scramble itself badly at its session this week if it gets involved in an argument over what the diplomats at the conference should discuss.

It may skip that trap by letting the U. S. representatives to the conference figure out for themselves what should be talked about, after they're chosen.

But just choosing the delegate nations to take part in the conference on the U. N. side will be a source of discontent.

The United States—through its U. N. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.—has taken the stand that the truce agreement meant what it said when it spoke of diplomats of "both sides."

Both sides, in the American view, means on one side, the North Koreans and the Chinese "volunteers"; on the other, the United States, South Korea and those U. N. nations which sent armed forces to fight in Korea.

This would exclude neutrals from sitting at the conference. The United States considers India, which sent only a medical unit to Korea, a neutral.

Russia has never been considered a neutral by this country and, if anyone had doubts, Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson last night said Russia had furnished the war supplies for the Chinese and North Koreans.

Lodge was being polite last night when he said this country didn't think Russia should be approved by the U. N. to sit at the conference "on our side or as a third."

But Britain and other Western Powers disagreed. They want Russia included at the conference, with U. N. approval. Their arguments go like this:

Russia, the No. 1 Communist nation, besides its links with China and North Korea, is both a European and Asiatic power and therefore vitally interested in any Asian peace conference.

And what India, biggest non-Communist nation in Asia, has an equally vital stake in a settlement between East and West in Asia. Besides, ignoring India wouldn't mesh with the other non-Communist Asians.

Last night Lodge came to this position: The United States would vote to include Russia at the conference, provided the "other side" asked to have Russia there.

According to Lodge's thinking, this would put Russia on the Communist side of the table. While the Lodge might consider this a moral victory for this country, the net effect would be to let Russia into the conference.

But he said this country wouldn't vote for India.

Army Officer Is Sentenced

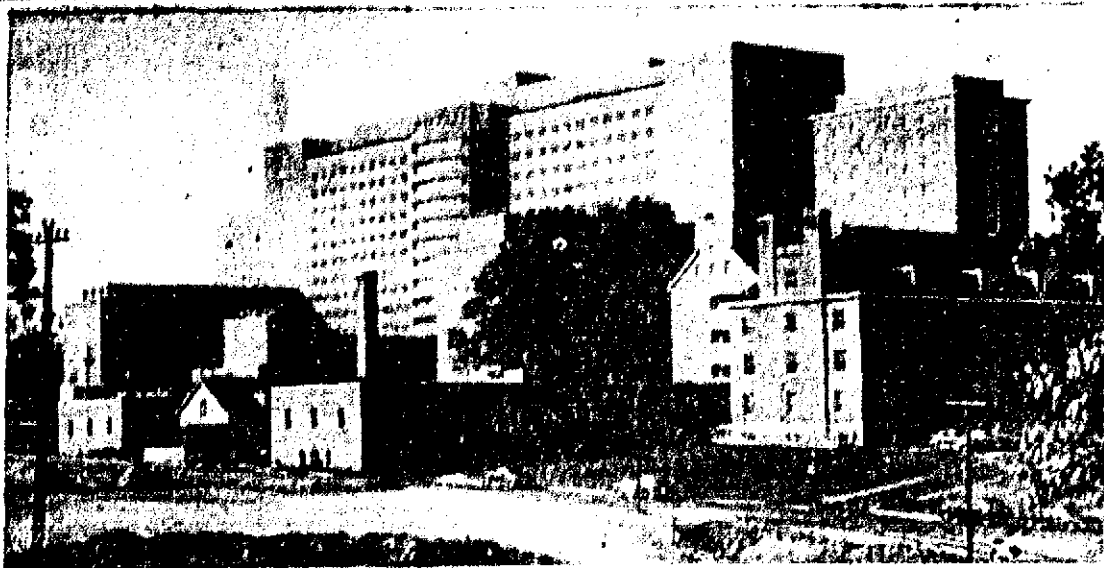

TAEGU, Korea (INS)—A U. S. Army lieutenant was sentenced to life imprisonment today for ordering the fatal shooting of a Korean civilian.

Shocking

Electricity, at a very low potential, affects the heart, causing a frame of wavering, according to the American Medical Association. This is why shocks of even such low voltage as that found in house circuits can sometimes fatal.

FORTRESS IN MAN'S FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE—The National Institute for Health, the last word in luxury, has opened in Bethesda, Md. The government-sponsored hospital will offer its services free, but just try to get in. Patients will have to be invited to be a patient in the new $64 million medical center. The only requirement for admission to the 14-story center, which will house 200 patients, is that patients have some particular form of a disease which hospital staffers want to study.

C'MON UP, SPOTTY—Robbie Meltzer, of Chicago, Ill., calls his Dalmatian dog from the rooftop playhouse which his father built for him. In the meantime, his pal, Mike Petrovich, keeps his eyes peeled for Indians and pirates who might be planning an attack on their fort.

U. S. Chides Moscow About Talks Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today chided Moscow for attempting to delay four-power talks on Germany and to create a new obstacle to ending the all-German elections.

The official reaction to Moscow's latest move on Germany was contained in a short State Department statement.

Noting that the United States, Britain and France on July 17 proposed that a four-power conference on Germany be held in late September, the State Department said the new Soviet move "tends to put off any kind of meeting until some time next year."

"We think it will be difficult for the German people to understand why the Soviets are reluctant to get on with concrete discussions regarding Germany," the department said.

The U. S. and the Soviets are trying to set up a "substitute of free all-German elections by insisting that such elections be subordinated to establishment of a German provisional government in which the Soviet-controlled East German regime would be placed on "an equal political and moral level" with the West German republic.

Referring to the widespread riots in East Germany which began June 17, the statement said the Communist regime in East Germany had been thoroughly "discredited in the eyes of all the world."

The announcement was issued in the name of Kim Du Hong, chairman of the council.

The North Korean action was a unilateral or one-sided one which has nothing to do with the armistice agreement so far as the United Nations are concerned.

The declaration of war of the Red government followed its invasion of South Korea. The U. N. voted to resist the Communist aggression. The Chinese Communists joined their fellow Reds on a "volunteer" basis and the U. N. is not formally at war with the Chinese Reds.

Allied governments have made it plain that they will not relax their strength or vigilance in North Korea during the armistice for fear of Red treachery.

Girl Is Shot Accidentally

BENTON (AP)—Patricia Nelson, 11, was wounded gravely in an accidental shooting near her rural Saline County home yesterday.

She was taken to Arkansas Baptist Hospital at Little Rock. Hospital attendants said a bullet had lodged against her spine and that she was paralyzed below the waist.

An ambulance attendant said he was told that the girl was wounded accidentally but that he knew no details. Chief Deputy Sheriff Guy Grant said the shooting was not reported to his office.

The girl is the daughter of Mrs. W. W. Talbot of Route 3, Benton.

CIVIL WAR VET STILL HEARTY—Walter Williams, 110, one of two surviving Texas Confederate veterans, takes time out to have a physical checkup at a Houston, Tex., Veterans Administration hospital. Drs. Jacob Markewich and Russell Wolf found that he had the heart and blood pressure of a young man. Looking on, at right, is Charles Riley, a Korean amputee.

Italy's Cabinet Takes Oath

Rome (AP)—Premier Giuseppe Pella's new cabinet took the oath of office before President Luigi Einaudi today, to enter temporarily at least Italy's long political crisis.

The new government will face its first test tomorrow when Pella presents it to the Senate for formal approval.

Einaudi swore in the new cabinet at his historic Quirinal palace. Pella emphasized, as he left the place, that he regards his government as a transitory one.

He said it will concentrate on getting the 1953 budget through Parliament by Oct. 30.

Prisoners Are Baptised

CUMMINS PRISON FARM—(AP)—The Cummins prison farm here witnessed its first mass baptism yesterday.

Twelve Negro convicts, three of them women, were immersed in the waters of Forbes lake by the Rev. R. E. Hunt, an ordained Baptist minister who also is an inmate at the prison.

Hunt is serving time for larceny and entered the prison three months ago. Since then he has been holding religious services for Negro prisoners and persuaded prison Superintendent Lee Henslee to permit the baptism ceremony.

The girl is the daughter of Mrs. W. W. Talbot of Route 3, Benton.

Marine Kills 150 Chinese, Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's highest military honor was awarded today to a wounded Marine who slew 150 Chinese by firing two machine guns from the hip until his hands were blistered.

The Defense Department announced the award of the Medal of Honor to Cpl. Alford Le McLaughlin, 25, of Leeds, Ala., who with machinegun, carbine, and hand grenades helped stand off a battalion-sized Chinese attack on a vital outpost of Bunker Hill in Korea last Sept. 4-5.

McLaughlin, then a private first class, had volunteered for duty at the outpost, a mile in front of the main line.

The Chinese hammered the outpost for days with mortar and artillery fire, then sent their troops against it twice in a night attack.

McLaughlin was wounded early in the fight, but poured a stream of lead at the enemy. Standing in full view, he used two machine guns, firing each from the hip until his arms grew too hot to hold. When the machine guns finally blistered his hands he switched to carbine and grenades.

When the light dawned in the morning his estimated McLaughlin had killed 150 Chinese and wounded 50 more.

McLaughlin, fully recovered from his wounds, is now assigned to a Marine reserve unit.
